NOTES FROM REV. DAN

"I've been a Unitarian Universalist my whole life, but never had a name for it."

I've heard variations on that sentence for pretty much my entire life. "I've always been looking for something like this." "I had no idea a religion like Unitarian Universalism was possible." "I never knew there was a faith that would love somebody like me." Sometimes it feels like Unitarian Universalism must be the best kept secret in religion.

There are obvious reasons for this. We honor diversity, and we're not interested in converting people who are perfectly happy in their own faiths. Other people sometimes have assumptions about religion that don't apply to us at all. Conversations about religion can sometimes feel awkward to begin with, so it's easy for us to assume that other people wouldn't want to hear it.

The truth is there are a great many who have been waiting years to hear about us. Some are looking for a religion where they don't have to leave any part of themselves at the door, where they can explore spiritual truth and practice without having to accept somebody else's creed, where human dignity is valued, and the ethic of love is real.

Some are going through hard times and need a community that offers solace without judgment. Some are families seeking a supportive and open-minded congregation in which to raise their kids. Some are looking for a religious community that can work for justice, help them grow, and celebrate life all at the same time.

I believe Unitarian Universalism is important. I believe we save lives, and I know we make lives better. I believe our message is exactly what the world needs right now, and I think it's time to tell the world about it.

One of the ways we'll be spreading our message this summer is by joining community events like West Chester's "Swingin' Summer Thursdays," community fairs, and other special days. The first "Summer Thursday" is June 6, and we'll be there with a table, some "kindness rocks" for kids of all ages to make, friendly faces, and information about who we are. I hope you'll sign up to help or stop by and join us for a while.

We have something wonderful to share. Let's get the message out!

In faith, Dan

Jun 2 10 am

ASK THE MINISTER

Rev. Dan Schatz

For the past month, our minister has been collecting questions from you. This morning he will give some answers. The service is earlier than usual this year, so please make sure to get questions in by Sunday, May 26.

Jun 9 10 am

RE SUNDAY: GROWING UP UU

Pam Baxter, DLFD

"RE Sunday" is the annual service in which we celebrate classes and recognize teachers and other volunteers. This year, we'll explore the different ways that we wove our UU Principles into Sunday morning classes—digging deeper into our seven UU Principles through stories, becoming Agents of Change for issues that are important to us, and discovering that living the principles affects our relationships throughout Our Whole Lives. The morning will also include the Intergen Choir and Chimes Choir. We hope you will join us in celebrating our students and teachers. And please plan to stay after the service for the Annual meeting.

Jun 16 10 am

YE OLDE
HYMN SING

Mihcael Werner and Jason Shaefer-Valerius

Please join us as Michael Werner and Jason Shaefer-Valerius lead us in songfest of our favorite hymns. In what has become a favorite service for many, each year for the past eighteen years we have explored our hymnal and gathered together to sing our favorite hymns. We've given up trying to stump the pianist and hymn leader; now we focus our energy and voices on old favorites, new melodies, and general good fun as we celebrate our congregational voice. Bring your hymnal and a list of hymns which you want us to sing, a sense of humor, a warmed-up voice, and be a part of the largest pick-up choir in Chester County.

Jun 23 10 am

FROM PAKISTAN TO CHESTER COUNTY

Bushra Qureshi

Growing up in Pakistan, to Bushra Qureshi America was where Mohammed Ali reigned and Michael Jackson sang, where Hollywood movies were made, and Disney made dreams come true — a true melting pot where all could live the American Dream. Bushra will tell us how — after almost two decades here and as a Muslim in Chester County — she now has a more balanced and realistic view.

Bushra has been on the Board of the Islamic Society of Chester County for the last eight years and is currently the head of the Interfaith Committee, as well as being involved with activities for women and children in her community.

Jun 30 10 am

FROM HUGHES TO HIP HOP

Patricia DeBrady

From early America to modern hip hop, Black poets have played an important, but often underrepresented and underappreciated role. Special guest Patricia DeBrady brings them to the fore at UCWC.

Patricia DeBrady has presented/taught African and African American literature to classes, communities, and gatherings of interested others for the past 40 years. Her UU membership of more than fifty years provides a particular understanding of black presence within predominantly white cultures. Being party to the struggle that had potential to rive the UUA has provided her with some insight (however contestable) about the issue of American diversity. She is a member of the UU Church of the Restoration.

Annual Meeting Sunday, June 9

Eligible Members, please watch for your official notice of our Annual Meeting, slated for Sunday, June 9, following the Service in the Sanctuary.

Business on the agenda so far includes:

- Approve a slate of candidates for Board of Trustees and Nominating Committee
- Approve a change to the Bylaws regarding the Committee on Ministry membership and tenure
- Approve UCWC's budget for fiscal year 2019-2020

Details will accompany the official notice.

Ask the Minister Service: Submit Your Questions by May 26

Is there something you'd like to know about theology, UU history, world religions, or sacred writings? Do you want to know what your minister thinks about an issue that you care about? Or do you have questions about ministry itself?

Through May 26, Dan will take questions on whatever topics you'd like to hear about. You can email your questions to Dan (email: minister) or write them on a card and put them in the question box in the lobby.

All questions will be read anonymously, though you may wish to leave your name, so Dan can contact you for clarification. On Sunday, June 2, Dan will open the box and answer the questions.

From the President

June is here and as I stand at the polls as a candidate, I almost forgot about my very last Fellowtarian article as your board president.

There's so much to reflect upon over the last four years. When I started on the board, Rev. Bill Zelazny was our interim minister. We were worried about how to simultaneously accomplish a ministerial search process and a capital campaign, both of which seemed overwhelming.

Rev. Dan's installation and our changes to be a more strategic board were both inspirational in many ways. As president, I learned to listen to many and consider which capable staff member or committee could handle the concern. The board began a process of creating a covenant and visioning with the congregation.

Our major renovation project was another challenge that we approached with enthusiasm and engagement and, of course, some heavy equipment. Moving out to The Concept School and back into our home in just five months was quite a feat.

Finally, my gratitude to all of you is immeasurable. Your kindness, patience, and trust in me as been well beyond what I expected. You may never know the healing that you brought to me by letting me find my way, while I was feeling otherwise without a purpose. To the many board members who served in the last four years, I truly appreciate all your hard work, as we learned how to look towards the future and leave the daily operations to the executive team.

Our final annual meeting for the year is Sunday, June 9. We will have a new president, two new board members, and hopefully a budget that can accomplish all our needs.

I'm looking forward to joining you in the seats on Sunday, at potlucks, at Black Lives Matter events, and in my small group ministry. You have prepared me for a larger role in the community on the Downingtown School Board where my UU values will help every student, and again I thank you.

— Janine

These are informal opportunities for UCWC folks of all ages to stay connected while enjoying a refreshing treat. We'll meet at Maggie Moo's (Main Street in Exton) at 7 pm. There's a grassy area for kids to run around in, and the ice cream has been vetted by parents of children with nut allergies. Contact Pam at email: DLFD.

Small Group Ministries

Small Group Ministry is a way for us to connect with each other and share in each other's lives while discussing everything from "friendship" to "science and spirituality." Currently, we have five groups running at different times and on different days. To sign up for a group, contact Pam Baxter at email: DLFD.

REmarks—Religious Education Update Growing up UU

What we do in UU children's religious education is kind of paradoxical. We try to teach our kids about Unitarian Universalism and how to "live UU." At the same time, we're aware that the very nature of Unitarian Universalism and our Fourth Principle of promoting "A free and responsible search for truth and meaning" means that children can decide which beliefs are right for them—and this includes deciding that they want to be Christian, or Buddhist, or nothing.

This leads to another paradox, since deciding to be non-UU is completely UU. And since we believe in "deeds, not creeds," does it matter if our kids decide that they're not Unitarian Universalist if they act like they are? My son, for instance, has that Millennial stance of non-attachment to many things even while embracing them. He attends the Unitarian church in his city, but in a somewhat casual, occasional way. I have the satisfaction of knowing that he's UU, even if he doesn't identify as such. Religious affiliation—or not—just isn't important to him. Yet that church is his home. And that satisfies me. I want to know that our kids are growing up with a sense of their individual, personal spirituality and also have a place where they can feel part of and connected to a faith community. Both those things are important.

So, what did we do this past year to help our children along that path? In our Sunday morning religious education (RE) classes, our curricula centered on exploring aspects of our seven Unitarian Principles. With our youngest children (PreK through second graders) in Spirit Play, our weekly stories focused on respecting each other, offering fair and kind treatment to all, learning with and from each other, growing in spirit and mind, believing in and acting on our ideas, insisting on a peace, freedom, and justice for all, and valuing and taking care of the Earth.

Our "Agents of Change" (third through sixth graders) took steps in learning how to make a difference in the world when it comes to changing existing policy. They selected a cause to work on — the need for and benefits of more time spent out-of-doors — then researched the science behind it, created a petition, and made a video summarizing their thoughts. This was a real-life effort and they will be taking petitions to their schools.

Finally, in the Our Whole Lives class, our seventh, eighth, and ninth graders learned the importance of respecting themselves and their intimate partners (our First Principle's call to respecting the inherent worth and dignity of every person) as they look ahead to stepping into deeper relationships. This is such vital grounding for these teens who will soon be young adults.

We'll be celebrating these accomplishments at our annual RE Sunday on June 9. We'll also recognize all our volunteer teachers and facilitators. Please join us.

Stones in the Wall: Social Justice

Each event, each action is another stone in the wall of social justice.

UUPLAN Gun Violence Prevention Supports Rally and Walk in Media

Many people and good organizations are working to reduce gun violence, including Delco United for Sensible Gun Policy.

With the support of UUPLAN Gun Violence Prevention, Delco United is organizing a rally and walk on Saturday, June 1 during National Gun Violence Prevention Week at 1 pm at Second Baptist Church of Media, 400 E. State Street. All are welcome.

The fact that gun violence can happen anywhere, at any time — including right here in Chester County — has become the reality we will continue face, as long as it is easy for dangerous people to get their hands on deadly weapons.

— Tom Buglio, UUPLAN Gun Violence Prevention (email: gun-safety)

Defenders of Democracy

Tom Buglio, Charlot Barker, Rep. Chrissy Houlahan, Rev. Kate Rohde, David Cohen

On May 3, four members of Defenders of Democracy had the pleasure of meeting with Congresswoman, Chrissy Houlahan at her West Chester office. We had the chance to tell her about our congregation, and the goals of Defenders of Democracy in the areas of pro-democracy/anti-corruption principles based upon the Constitution.

We applauded her for her active participation in getting bill HR1 passed in the House, similar to the American Anti-Corruption Act, which provides our blueprint for lobbying our legislators. She is very much committed to these policies.

Rep. Houlahan has helped start a caucus of new House members who come from a military background and want to work in a bipartisan way to get good bills passed. She is very much an advocate for actionable policy and wants to work to help heal the great partisan divide. She now knows that she has an ally in Defenders of Democracy.

Share-the-Plate Generosity

The Social Justice Committee's Share-the-Plate Program raises money to give to local non-profit organizations which are trying to improve life for Chester County residents. We are pleased to announce the share-the-plate recipient for June 16 (third Sunday of the month), the Legal Committee of IndivisibleKSQ.

The Legal Committee of IndivisibleKSQ supports the immigrant community of Chester County, providing education on legal rights and community resources and financial support for basic needs including rent, food, and transportation, as well as making connections with other organizations that might assist.

Please note the following as you prepare your donation:

- All cash is split 50/50.
- All checks should be made out to UCWC:
  - ♦ Checks with "Share the Plate" in the memo are split 50/50.
  - ♦ Checks with charity name in the memo go 100% to the charity.
  - ♦ All other checks go 100% to UCWC, unless otherwise indicated.

First Sunday Food Collection

This Month's Suggested Items: Pasta and Rice

Our monthly collection for the West Chester Food Cupboard is Sunday, June 2. Look for the white collection basket in the coat closet. In addition to the suggested items above, other non-perishable foods, personal care items, and household items are welcome—just be sure that items have not passed their expiration date.

Another important way to support The Food Cupboard is to put a check in the collection basket. This gives the Food Cupboard the flexibility to purchase items in short supply and to take advantage of sales. Make your check payable to "UCWC" and write "WC Food Cupboard" in the memo.

The West Chester Food Cupboard is a 100% volunteer organization, so you know that 100% of your contribution will go to fighting food insecurity. The Food Cupboard helps people right here, right now, because, "No one should go hungry."

Contact Steve Sander, email: food-cupboard.

UUSC Update

The Unitarian Universalist Service Committee (UUSC) doesn't play it safe. They call out practices that are counter to our UU beliefs and hold elected officials accountable for their actions. On the UUSC web site right now South Carolina Senator Lindsey Graham and the Trump administration are called out. UUSC gives you opportunities to take specific and meaningful actions when people aren't being treated humanely, justly, with dignity.

Take just a moment to see and take action yourself:

- Tell Congress: Dreamers, DED and TPS holders deserve a legislative solution
- Call on Congress: Do not fuel a humanitarian crisis in Honduras
- Take the Pledge: Commit to Combat the Climate Crisis

Visit the UUSC Initiatives page to learn more about how UUSC fights for UU values around the world.

Click here to help support UUSC's work. Any amount makes you a member for a year.

Thank you.
